ABOUT

I am a Full Stack Software Developer who loves creating, designing, and team work. I'm passionate about connecting people and making the world a better place through Tech. I have a diverse background in both my work history and personal life, I've done everything from a Fire Fighting to Wood Working. This has given me strong communicate skills. I've recently created a Napster Clone and a Marvel Comic App using TDD, Agile Practices and Mob Programming. I enjoy making apps that are fun and easy to use. I love collaborating on the apps of the future.
